RATIONALE FOR INTRODUCTION OF THIS COURSE:
First Nations/Indigenous community logic regarding HomeLand Nations is the foundational logic set for ancient and continuing knowledge as well as academic disciplines such as Bioregionalism, Resource and Environmental Management, Ethnobotany, and Environmental Science. Indigenous Weaving is a methodology in which to learn indigenous resources, the seasonal round (calendar), and indigenous ecosystem relationship and management techniques.
LEARNING OUTCOMES:
Students will:
* learn indigenous ethnobotanical realizations (i.e.; identity of materials);
* understand plant/material meaning, and symbolism to indigenous weavers;
* recognize indigenous logic which explains fibers, roots, withes, bark as helpers and/or medicines;
* consider the role of forests, deserts, mountains, watersheds as sustainable ecosystems;
* comprehend indigenous concepts of sustainability as a set of ethics and practice;
* realize the protocols, rights and privileges relevant to gender, social, cultural, religious roles for gathering and making things;
* learn about traditional indigenous methods of weaving mentorships, affiliations;
* consider the role of dreams, meditations in the act of Making;
* understand a diversity of techniques and technologies;
* review First Nations art history, iconography and symbolic aesthetics in weaving;
* create several full-scale weaving projects.

Foreign Cultural Component

Study Abroad Programs

This program requires some study abroad as part of the undergraduate education, preferably in the third or fourth years. Such study can be counted toward the elective requirements with the approval of the program, for example, through:

- field schools
- short term foreign visits. Opportunities for international conferences, colloquia and research are available through the program.
- co-operative education internship. Students work in a foreign country for an overseas organization or a Canadian affiliate. Other work experience includes employment through the Department of Foreign Affairs under its internships programs including Global Issues, International Trade, and Value and Culture. Students in good standing with a minimum 3.0 GPA may apply to co-op after satisfactorily completing 45 units. The program consists of two separate work terms in a foreign-relations field. Arrangements are made with the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences co-op adviser.

FACULTY OF ARTS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES
MEMORANDUM

To: Members of FASSC
From: Paul Budra
Associate Dean, FASS

Subject: Calendar Changes, FASS Academic Advice and Transfer sections
Date: January 19, 2011

We are proposing the attached revision to the calendar language for FASS Academic Advice and Transfer.

The reason for the changes to the Academic Advice section is to more clearly define the academic advising resources available to students, from first through fourth year, through Student Services Academic Advising and Student Success and FASS (Arts Central and departments).

The reason for the changes to the Transfer section is to clarify our policy on students transferring to FASS from other Faculties, specifically due to our recent changes to the FASS BGS degree. The FASS BGS degree is no longer an exit graduation option for students from other SFU Faculties. In order to ensure that a student from another Faculty is adequately prepared to realistically pursue a BA degree in the FASS, the student must meet the minimum lower division requirements for approval to at least one major or two minors before they will be approved in the BA degree in FASS. The last change in this section is to recognize that Science One and Tech One are not the only first year experience programs at SFU, this language broadens the definition of first year programs at SFU.

Paul Budra
- Faculty advisors in Arts Central (AQ 3020): third- and fourth-year undeclared students (more than 60 units completed), students pursuing the BA with two minors or the Bachelor of General Studies and declared students who need to discuss other issues.

Students in all programs leading to Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences bachelor’s degrees must consult an advisor:
- prior to first enrolment at Simon Fraser University through a Blueprints advising session, and
- during that term when they are completing their 45th unit, and
- during that term when they are completing their 90th unit.

Students in certificate and post baccalaureate diploma programs must seek advice from their department advisor.

Transfer into the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

Students currently enrolled in other Simon Fraser University faculties must have a 2.0 grade point average, or greater, to enter the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences to pursue a Bachelor of Arts degree. In addition, students must be approved by the appropriate departments into a minimum of one major or two minors, as required for their Bachelor of Arts degree.

Students who withdraw, or are required to withdraw, while in the FASS and are subsequently readmitted to the University will be permitted to re-enter the FASS, even though their Simon Fraser University cumulative grade point average is less than 2.00.

Students in may not transfer into the FASS until the end of the second term following their admission to first year cohort program.

Students in first year experience programs may not apply to transfer into the FASS until the end of the second term following their admission to the first year experience program.
