COURSE DESCRIPTION

Education 439 is designed as an introduction to the world of educational administration. Students who take this course can expect to gain a broad, general understanding of how education is administered in Canada, and more particularly, in British Columbia.

Students who complete this course should come away from the course experience with a more intelligent and insightful understanding of both the dynamics of school operations and the social and political environment in which schools function. Students will gain insights into the politics of education, the economics of education, and the social and legal factors influencing education. Particular emphasis will be given to the study of organizational behaviour in schools.

A variety of course experiences will be offered to emphasize both knowledge acquisition and the development of administrative skills. These experiences will include individual study and research, lectures, small group discussions, and class projects. Extensive use will be made of case studies, role plays, simulations and filmed materials.

Education 439 is a particularly valuable course for those students who are planning to become school principals, vice-principals, superintendents of schools or senior officials in the Ministry of Education. The course is particularly essential for those students who are planning to undertake graduate studies in educational administration. It provides a broad foundation for graduate work.

COURSE READINGS

These will be distributed by the instructor at the beginning of the course.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

Assignments and responsibilities for the course are of three kinds:

- Attendance. Each student is expected to be present for all classes and field sessions of the 1. class. In the event of extenuating circumstances, it is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor of any proposed absence.
- 2. Regular class presentation. Each student will have required reading assignments for each class session along with additional preparatory work assigned, e.g., case study analysis, role plays.
- Assignments from the list of suggested assignments. The list of suggested assignments 3. (which will be distributed at the beginning of the course) includes assignments such as book reviews, field observations, in-class presentations, article reviews, small-scale research studies, term papers, writing of case studies, etc.

GRADE CONTRACTING

Each student may contract for the grade desired.

Students who wish to contract for a grade at the C level will be required to complete assignments and responsibilities 1 and 2 and one assignment from 3. The grade awarded at the C level (C-, C or C+) will depend upon the quality of work done at this level.

Students who wish to contract for a grade at the B level will complete assignments and responsibilities 1 and 2 and two assignments from 3. The grade awarded at the B level (B-, B or B+) will depend upon the quality of the work done at this level.

Students who wish to contract for a grade at the A level will complete assignments and responsibilities 1 and 2 and three assignments from 3. The grade awarded at the A level (A-, A or A+) will depend upon the quality of work done at this level.
