

Education 471-4 Curriculum Development: Theory and Practice

SUMMER SESSION 1983

INSTRUCTORS: Louis Rubin
Ian Andrews

Tuesday & Thursday 5:30 - 9:20

LOCATION: on campus

Curriculum Development and Application is designed to give the student an overview of the processes involved in planning and organizing instruction. Predominant emphasis is upon procedures used in determining appropriate instructional content. Among other topics, students will consider principles of curriculum development, evaluation mechanisms, implementation procedures, and alternative conceptions of schooling. Other topics include the implications of technology, probably societal trends in the short-term future, and various approaches to competency-based education. Each student will have an opportunity to develop an actual program of instruction in an area of personal choice.

REQUIRED TEXT:
