

EDUCATION 486
THEATRE-IN-EDUCATION
SPRING SEMESTER 1978

Instructor: Gloria Shapiro-Latham.

General Information:

The Theatre-in-Education course is open to Education students who wish to explore a theatre process toward creative discovery. Subject matter drawn from the curriculum or from life experiences will be researched, developed, and performed with the total involvement of the participant. Students will gain skill in improvisation, character development, role positioning and gaming techniques in order to apply theatre-in-education to their individual classroom needs and respond to a new and joyous learning environment.

Required Texts: None

Suggested Reading List:

Fines, John, Verrier, Raymond, The Drama of History.
O'Toole, John, Theatre In Education.
Kagan, Jerome, Creativity and Learning.

Time: Wednesday: 4:30 - 8:30

Requirements:

A Journal of Observation and Research
The development of a simulation game for use in the classroom.
The creation and presentation of a theatre-in-education programme.

GSL:ca