RATIONALE:

Change of Prerequisite to "Two Lower Division Anthropology "A" courses."

The current system of prerequisites was planned in 1973 on the assumption that the Department was going to expand. Since the 'consent of Department' clause is used so often we feel it better to regularize the position. Any 200-division Anthropology course. would draw upon a common body of theory and concepts even if not explicitly focussing on them, and this would suffice to provide a starting point for the more advanced anthropology courses.

Change of prerequisite to "Permission of Department - prior exposure to topic strongly recommended"

The instructors of these courses prefer that the courses be open to all students with a genuine interest in the topic, and prior exposure to the topic.
