

MEMO

Dean of Graduate Studies

STREET ADDRESS

Maggie Benston Student
Services Centre 1100
Burnaby BC V5A 1S6
Canada

MAILING ADDRESS

8888 University Drive
Burnaby BC V5A 1S6
Canada
TO Senate

TEL

FROM Mary-Ellen Kelm, Acting Dean, Graduate Studies

RE Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

[GS2012.28]

CC Paul Budra

DATE 12 June 2012

For information:

Acting under delegated authority at its meeting of 11 June 2012, SGSC approved the following curriculum revision:

Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

[GS2012.28]

a. Department of Political Science

Master of Arts Program

Degree Requirements

1. Essay or Project Option:

i) required courses: increase to the total number

ii) additional courses: increase to the total number; minor editorial corrections

2. Thesis Option:

i) required courses: increase to the total number

ii) additional courses: increase to the total number; minor editorial corrections

3. Field Exam Option:

i) additional courses: minor editorial corrections

Senators wishing to consult a more detailed report of curriculum revisions may do so by going to Docushare: <https://docushare.sfu.ca/dsweb/View/Collection-12682>
If you are unable to access the information, please call 778-782-3168 or email shelley_gair@sfu.ca.

b.School of Public Policy

Public Policy Master Program

Program Requirements for Year 2

1. Electives: include eleven new courses approved S.10-69
 - MPP 817-5 Advanced Qualitative Analysis for Public Policy
 - MPP 818-5 Quantitative Methods for Policy Analysts
 - MPP 819-5 Public Management
 - MPP 820-5 Public Participation in Public Policy
 - MPP 821-5 Aboriginal Policy in Canada
 - MPP 822-5 World Economic Policy Issues
 - MPP 823-5 Health Policy
 - MPP 824-5 Analysis, Formulation and Evaluation of Social Policy
 - MPP 827-5 Managing Compliance: Delivering Policy
 - MPP 828-5 Multiple Account Benefit-Cost Analysis
 - MPP 829-5 Environmental Policy

Effective Date is January 2013

Senators wishing to consult a more detailed report of curriculum revisions may do so by going to Docushare: <https://docushare.sfu.ca/dsweb/View/Collection-12682>
If you are unable to access the information, please call 778-782-3168 or email shelley_gair@sfu.ca.

FROM:

Degree Requirements

The master of arts (MA) program may be completed through an essay or project option, a thesis option, or a field exam option. Students are admitted to the essay or project option and will require approval of the graduate program chair to transfer to another stream. Except in extenuating circumstances, students may only transfer once.

In accordance with Graduate General Regulation 1.6.4, each student will be assigned a supervisory committee.

Essay or Project Option

Students who choose the essay or project option will complete a total of ~~five~~ six courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and ~~three~~ four additional courses from at least two of the department's ~~three~~ fields of study.

The essay or project option also requires completion of either extended essays in two department fields of study or one research project. Students who choose the research project option will submit a maximum 12,500 word (and bibliography) project, must have substantial original content. If an extended essay is chosen instead of a project, each extended essay will elaborate upon course work research and is not to exceed 12,500 words (and bibliography). Extended essays and research projects are defended in an oral defense.

Thesis Option

For those who choose the thesis option, students must submit to the thesis supervisory committee a thesis proposal outlining a brief topic summary, its relevance, the methodology to be followed, a chapter-by-chapter outline, thesis completion timetable and a bibliography. The proposal must be approved by the thesis supervisory committee.

Students in the thesis stream complete a total of ~~four~~ five courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and ~~two~~ three additional courses from at least two of the ~~three~~-fields of study.

Students also must write a thesis, normally 18,750 to 25,000 words in length (and bibliography) and defend it in an oral defense.

Field Exam Option

For those who choose the field exam option, students submit, first to the supervisory committee and then to the appropriate department field committee, a field exam proposal outlining major and minor fields of study and a timetable for field exam completion. The field exam proposal ~~is~~ must be approved by the supervisory committee.

Students in the field exam option will complete seven courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and five additional courses from at least two of the department's ~~three~~-fields of study.

Students also pass two written field exams: one in their major and one in their minor field of study. The supervisory committee serves as the nucleus of the field examination committee. With the student's consultation, the supervisory committee will be expanded to include additional examiners if necessary. Students who fail one field examination, and one only, may retake the failed field examination.

Fields of Study

~~The major fields of study are~~

- ~~• Canadian government and politics~~
- ~~• Comparative government and politics~~
- ~~• International relations~~

~~Within these three major fields of study there are three distinct thematic emphases: public policy, political economy and governance. However, the department may offer advanced study in other political science fields, subject to the availability of faculty research expertise.~~

Interested students should consult the Political Science website

TO:

Degree Requirements

The master of arts (MA) program may be completed through an essay or project option, a thesis option, or a field exam option. Students are admitted to the essay or project option and will require approval of the graduate program chair to transfer to another stream. Except in extenuating circumstances, students may only transfer once.

In accordance with Graduate General Regulation 1.6.4, each student will be assigned a supervisory committee.

Essay or Project Option

Students who choose the essay or project option will complete a total of six courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and four additional courses from at least two of the department's fields of study.

The essay or project option also requires completion of either extended essays in two department fields of study or one research project. Students who choose the research project option will submit a maximum 12,500 word (and bibliography) project, must have substantial original content. If an extended essay is chosen instead of a project, each extended essay will elaborate upon course work research and is not to exceed 12,500 words (and bibliography). Extended essays and research projects are defended in an oral defense.

Thesis Option

For those who choose the thesis option, students must submit to the thesis supervisory committee a thesis proposal outlining a brief topic summary, its relevance, the methodology to be followed, a chapter-by-chapter outline, thesis completion timetable and a bibliography. The proposal must be approved by the thesis supervisory committee.

Students in the thesis stream complete a total of five courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and three additional courses from at least two of the fields of study.

Students also must write a thesis, normally 18,750 to 25,000 words in length (and bibliography) and defend it in an oral defense.

Field Exam Option

For those who choose the field exam option, students submit, first to the supervisory committee and then to the appropriate department field committee, a field exam proposal outlining major and minor fields of study and a timetable for field exam completion. The field exam proposal must be approved by the supervisory committee.

Students in the field exam option will complete seven courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and five additional courses from at least two of the department's fields of study.

Students also pass two written field exams: one in their major and one in their minor field of study. The supervisory committee serves as the nucleus of the field examination committee. With the student's consultation, the supervisory committee will be expanded to include additional examiners if necessary. Students who fail one field examination, and one only, may retake the failed field examination.

Fields of Study

Interested students should consult the Political Science website

Simon Fraser University

Academic Calendar > Political Science > Political Science Master of Arts Program

Political Science Master of Arts Program

Department of Political Science | Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences
Simon Fraser University Calendar 2012 Summer

Admission Requirements

In addition to the graduate general regulations, the department requires written statements of the student's current interests and proposed areas of research. Applications for graduate work will be considered with reference to the manner in which the proposed area of the candidate's research coincides with faculty teaching and research interests. Consult the department's list of faculty for general research interests. Should additional course work be deemed necessary, the graduate studies committee will indicate the same as a prerequisite.

A written statement of current research interests, three reference letters from qualified referees, and a sample of written work are also required.

Degree Requirements

The master of arts (MA) program may be completed through an essay or project option, a thesis option, or a field exam option. Students are admitted to the essay or project option and will require approval of the graduate program chair to transfer to another stream. Except in extenuating circumstances, students may only transfer once.

In accordance with Graduate General Regulation 1.6.4, each student will be assigned a supervisory committee.

Essay or Project Option

Students who choose the essay or project option will complete a total of five courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and three additional courses from at least two of the department's three fields of study.

The essay or project option also requires completion of either extended essays in two department fields of study or one research project. Students who choose the research project option will submit a maximum 12,500 word (and bibliography) project, must have substantial original content. If an extended essay is chosen instead of a project, each extended essay will elaborate upon course work research and is not to exceed 12,500 words (and bibliography). Extended essays and research projects are defended in an oral defence.

Thesis Option

For those who choose the thesis option, students must submit to the thesis supervisory committee a thesis proposal outlining a brief topic summary, its relevance, the methodology to be followed, a chapter-by-chapter outline, thesis completion timetable and a bibliography. The proposal must be approved by the thesis supervisory committee.

Students in the thesis stream complete a total of four courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and two additional courses from at least two of the three fields of study.

Students also must write a thesis, normally 18,750 to 25,000 words in length (and bibliography) and defend it in an oral defence.

Field Exam Option

For those who choose the field exam option, students submit, first to the supervisory committee and then to the appropriate department field committee, a field exam proposal outlining major and minor fields of study and a timetable for field exam completion. The field exam proposal is approved by the supervisory committee.

Students in the field exam option will complete seven courses, including

- POL 801 Theoretical Perspectives in Political Science (5)

and one of

- POL 802 Political Research: Design and Analysis (5)
- POL 803 Qualitative Research Methods in Political Science (5)

and five additional courses from at least two of the three fields of study.

Students also pass two written field exams: one in their major and one in their minor field of study. The supervisory committee serves as the nucleus of the field examination committee. With the student's consultation, the supervisory committee will be expanded to include additional examiners if necessary. Students who fail one field examination, and one only, may retake the failed field examination.

Fields of Study

The major fields of study are

- Canadian government and politics
- Comparative government and politics
- International relations

Within these three major fields of study there are three distinct thematic emphases: public policy, political economy and governance. However, the department may offer advanced study in other political science fields, subject to the availability of faculty research expertise.

All graduate students must satisfy the academic requirements that are specified in the Graduate General Regulations (residence, course work, academic progress, supervision, research competence requirement, completion time, and degree completion), as well as the specific requirements for the program in which they are enrolled, as shown above.

Academic Requirements within the Graduate General Regulations

All graduate students must satisfy the academic requirements that are specified in the graduate general regulations (residence, course work, academic progress, supervision, research competence requirement, completion time, and degree completion), as well as the specific requirements for the program in which they are enrolled, as shown above.

Return to political science index page.

For calendar inquiries and technical problems, contact calendar-sfu@sfu.ca | Calendar changes and corrections

FASSGC vote

From : Paul Budra <budra@sfu.ca>

Mon, Jun 04, 2012 07:49 AM

Subject : FASSGC voteTo : Sheilagh MacDonald <sheilagh@sfu.ca>

Hello Sheilagh:

The FASS graduate curriculum committee has voted in favor of the emendations to the PLCY and POL programs. Would you please put those changes on the agenda for the next SCGS meeting? Many thanks.

Paul Budra
Associate Dean
Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences
Simon Fraser University
778-782-4416; www.sfu.ca/personal/budra

Re: urgent:POL change

From : David Laycock <laycock@sfu.ca>

Thu, May 31, 2012 12:28 PM

Subject : Re: urgent:POL changeTo : Sheilagh MacDonald <sheilagh@sfu.ca>Cc : Paul Budra <budra@sfu.ca>, Shantala Singh <polgrad@sfu.ca>

Hi Sheilagh,

I approve the calendar language in this most recent version attached for me, and I've used your template below to spell out the changes.

POL MA Degree RequirementsEssay or Project Option:

required courses: increase to the total number four additional courses: increase of ONE to the total number

minor editorial correction: removal of "three" in same line identifying number of additional courses

Thesis Option:

required courses: NO increase to the total number additional courses: increase to the total number three

minor editorial correction: removal of "three" in same line identifying number of additional courses

Field Exam Option:

additional courses: minor editorial correction [removal of "three" in line 11 of this section]

Thanks to both you and Paul for your support on this!

cheers,

David

From: "Sheilagh MacDonald" <sheilagh@sfu.ca>To: "David Laycock" <david_laycock@sfu.ca>

FROM:

Program Requirements

Year Two

Students complete a minimum total of 30 units, including both of

- MPP-PLCY 808-5 Advanced Policy Analysis I
- MPP-PLCY 809-5 Advanced Policy Analysis II

In addition, four elective courses are required. The program director, in consultation with the student, selects appropriate graduate courses offered by affiliated programs and departments. To satisfy these requirements, and when appropriate, students may choose from the following MPP courses.

- MPP-PLCY 810-5 Issues in Public Policy I
- MPP-PLCY 811-5 Issues in Public Policy II
- MPP-PLCY 812-5 Selected Topics in Public Policy I
- MPP-PLCY 813-5 Selected Topics in Public Policy II
- PLCY 817-5 Advanced Qualitative Analysis for Public Policy
- PLCY 818-5 Quantitative Methods for Policy Analysts
- PLCY 819-5 Public Management
- PLCY 820-5 Public Participation in Public Policy
- PLCY 821-5 Aboriginal Policy in Canada
- PLCY 822-5 World Economic Policy Issues
- PLCY 823-5 Health Policy
- PLCY 824-5 Analysis, Formulation and Evaluation of Social Policy
- MPP-PLCY 825-5 MPP Directed Readings I
- MPP-PLCY 826-5 MPP Directed Readings II
- PLCY 827-5 Managing Compliance: Delivering Policy
- PLCY 828-5 Multiple Account Benefit-Cost Analysis
- PLCY 829-5 Environmental Policy

TO:

Program Requirements

Year Two

Students complete a minimum total of 30 units, including both of

- PLCY 808-5 Advanced Policy Analysis I
- PLCY 809-5 Advanced Policy Analysis II

In addition, four elective courses are required. The program director, in consultation with the student, selects appropriate graduate courses offered by affiliated programs and departments. To satisfy these requirements, and when appropriate, students may choose from the following MPP courses.

- PLCY 810-5 Issues in Public Policy I
- PLCY 811-5 Issues in Public Policy II
- PLCY 812-5 Selected Topics in Public Policy I
- PLCY 813-5 Selected Topics in Public Policy II
- PLCY 817-5 Advanced Qualitative Analysis for Public Policy
- PLCY 818-5 Quantitative Methods for Policy Analysts
- PLCY 819-5 Public Management
- PLCY 820-5 Public Participation in Public Policy
- PLCY 821-5 Aboriginal Policy in Canada
- PLCY 822-5 World Economic Policy Issues
- PLCY 823-5 Health Policy
- PLCY 824-5 Analysis. Formulation and Evaluation of Social Policy
- PLCY 825-5 MPP Directed Readings I
- PLCY 826-5 MPP Directed Readings II
- PLCY 827-5 Managing Compliance: Delivering Policy
- PLCY 828-5 Multiple Account Benefit-Cost Analysis
- PLCY 829-5 Environmental Policy
-

Simon Fraser University

Academic Calendar > Public Policy > Public Policy Master Program

Public Policy Master Program

School of Public Policy | Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences
Simon Fraser University Calendar 2012 Summer

This master of public policy (MPP) program offers the skills, insights and analytical frameworks that public sector and non-profit policy analysts and managers require. It focuses on the political and economic contexts of public policy analysis and offers specialized study. Designed to develop the strategic and global perspective required of tomorrow's senior policy analysts and managers, the program uses a cohort model which encourages student interaction and co-operation. An individual research project undertaken in MPP 808 and 809 (advanced policy analysis) is an integral part of the program.

This full-time two year cohort program, leading to a master of public policy (MPP), consists of fourteen courses and a summer co-op/internship. Courses are sequenced through the fall and spring terms. The maximum course load is four courses per term.

Admission Requirements

To be considered for admission, applicants must have a bachelor's degree from a recognized university. Those admitted with other credentials, or those with degrees who, in the judgement of the program director, are without adequate foundation in the social sciences, may be required to make up any deficiency without receiving graduate credit for those courses.

Students are normally admitted in September. It is expected that approximately 30 students will be directly admitted in any one year.

The normal admission minimum undergraduate GPA is 3.0 (or equivalent), although the admissions committee and program director may consider relevant work experience when determining admission eligibility.

Criteria for admission, in addition to undergraduate grades, include strong letters of reference, an essay, and for those whose native language is not English, acceptable TOEFL scores (570 minimum) and a score of 5 or above on the Test of Written English. Students with non-Canadian undergraduate or graduate degrees are required to complete the Graduate Record Exam (GRE).

Application Requirements

The following application documentation is required.

- a Simon Fraser University graduate application form, which is available from the School of Public Policy office or from www.sfu.ca/mpp
- official undergraduate transcript showing all grades (mailed directly from the granting institution)
- three confidential reference letters (mailed directly from referees), at least two of which are from faculty members (may be waived for mid-career applicants with professional experience; letters from employers may be used). Reference forms are available from the office or from www.sfu.ca/mpp
- a one-page essay that explains why the applicant wishes to pursue the MPP degree
- a student whose first language is not English and whose undergraduate degrees were from institutions where English is not the language of instruction are required to submit TOEFL and Test of Written English scores
- GRE score for non-Canadian degree applicants

Program Requirements

The candidate must complete a total of ten core MPP courses, a summer co-op/internship, and four additional elective courses that must be approved by the School of Public Policy director.

Year One

Students complete a total of 40 units, including all of

- MPP 800-5 Introduction to Public Policy Issues
- MPP 801-5 Economic Foundations of Policy Analysis I
- MPP 802-5 Economic Foundations of Policy Analysis II
- MPP 803-5 Political Foundations of Policy Analysis I
- MPP 804-5 Political Foundations of Policy Analysis II
- MPP 805-5 Research Techniques and Quantitative Methods I
- MPP 806-5 Research Techniques and Quantitative Methods II
- MPP 807-5 Introduction to Policy Analysis

In the summer term, the co-op/internship course MPP 850 is completed as well.

Year Two

Students complete a minimum total of 30 units, including both of

- MPP 808-5 Advanced Policy Analysis I
- MPP 809-5 Advanced Policy Analysis II

In addition, four elective courses are required. The program director, in consultation with the student, selects appropriate graduate courses offered by affiliated programs and departments. To satisfy these requirements, and when appropriate, students may choose from the following MPP courses.

- MPP 810-5 Issues in Public Policy I
- MPP 811-5 Issues in Public Policy II
- MPP 812-5 Selected Topics in Public Policy I
- MPP 813-5 Selected Topics in Public Policy II
- MPP 825-5 MPP Directed Readings I
- MPP 826-5 MPP Directed Readings II

Academic Requirements within the Graduate General Regulations

All graduate students must satisfy the academic requirements that are specified in the Graduate General Regulations (residence, course work, academic progress, supervision, research competence requirement, completion time, and degree completion), as well as the specific requirements for the program in which they are enrolled, as shown above.

Academic Requirements within the Graduate General Regulations

All graduate students must satisfy the academic requirements that are specified in the Graduate General Regulations (residence, course work, academic progress, supervision, research competence requirement, completion time, and degree completion), as well as the specific requirements for the program in which they are enrolled, as shown above.

Return to SFU Calendar index page.

For calendar inquiries and technical problems, contact calendar-sfu@sfu.ca | Calendar changes and corrections