

SENATE SUMMARY

MEETING OF SEPTEMBER 14, 2020

1. Report of the Chair

The Chair acknowledged the recent passing of Ali Dastmalchian, Dean of the Beedie School of Business. Ali will be deeply missed by the SFU community and by his colleagues around the world. Condolences have been extended to his family and the University will be looking for ways to honour his remembrance and the important work he did.

The Chair reported that SFU is in the midst of its month of welcome to students, with activities taking place to welcome students in the faculties and also through Student Services. It was noted that it's important, especially in these times, to provide students with creative opportunities to engage with the University and to engage with one another.

The Chair, in her role as President, noted that it's an honour to serve as SFU's tenth president and recognized that it's a challenging time to take on the presidency. Thanks was offered to faculty, staff, and students for the incredible work done over the past months. Though it is common for a new president to embark on a strategic planning process, it was noted that now is not the time to do so. Focus should be given to taking care of the University and ensuring the continuance of offering high quality programs. As such, the Chair identified the following priorities in the coming months:

- To ensure that SFU is a resilient and adaptive institution that can thrive despite challenges and be able to recognize the opportunities that lie ahead.
- To ensure SFU students are provided with a positive, healthy and exciting environment in which to learn and thrive.
- To deliver on the recommendations of the Aboriginal Reconciliation Council's report and to ensure that SFU is a place where indigenous people can flourish.
- To focus on equity, diversity, inclusion, and antiracism to ensure that SFU is a community where all feel welcome, safe and accepted.
