The Senate Graduate Studies Committee has two subcommittees: SGSC Appeal subcommittee (Unsatisfactory Progress under GGR 1.8.2), and the SGSC subcommittee Individualized Interdisciplinary Studies Steering Committee (Individualized Interdisciplinary Studies Graduate Program).

Discussions on graduate education

SGSC discussed a variety of issues including equitability for graduate students, posthumous degree awarding, thesis postponement of publication, options for English language tests and minimum English language test score requirements. The committee looked over proposed thesis template additions for research policy certifications and for an author's declaration/statement of contributions to recognize collaboration or instances of co-authorship. Graduate course enrollment set up, and access to interdisciplinary course work were also discussed.

In response to the ongoing global pandemic, SGSC reviewed the challenges faced by graduate students and academic units along with the measures being taken to provide support across graduate studies. Key issues discussed included grading policies for Spring 2020, defence practices, leave and extension policies, financial support, and impacts on international students with regards to study permits, receiving funding, and quarantine guidelines. SGSC also reviewed the results from the GSS Survey on Remote Course Delivery in Summer 2020.

SGSC reviewed, recommended, approved and submitted to Senate curriculum changes related to the addition, deletion and modification of programs and courses, as well as revisions to regulations.
