

EDUCATION 422-4 - LEARNING DISABILITIES

Regular Summer Semester 1984
Fridays, 1:00-4:50 p.m.

Instr: Dr. B. Wong
Location: on campus

INTRODUCTION: This course teaches students what "Learning Disabilities" are about.

COURSE OBJECTIVES: That students acquire

1. conceptual understanding of learning disabilities.
2. knowledge of characteristics of children and adolescents with learning disabilities
3. methods of diagnosis and remediation of learning disabilities
4. non-academic problems of learning disabilities
5. that students learn about current problems and issues in the learning disabilities field

A detailed course outline will be available in April in the relevant box next to the Education receptionist.

GRADING: 50% mid-term exam
50% final exam