September to December 1986

A number of Education courses are available in the Fall 1986 semester through the DISC (Directed Independent Study Course) program offered by the Centre for Distance Education.

For further information about DISC courses, contact the Centre for Distance Education, Simon Fraser University, Burnaby, B.C. V5A 1S6. (604) 291-3524 or call toll-free 1-800-242-1201.

Education 220-3: Psychological Issues in Education
Education 433-4: Philosophical Issues in Education
Education 467-4: English as a Second Language
Education 474-4: Designs for Learning: Social Sciences

DISC courses are popular with students around the province. However, the Faculty of Education is aware that teachers value the opportunity to meet with colleagues for focussed discussion, problem-solving and exploring classroom applications. The Faculty of Education will augment Education 467-4 if a group of teachers (minimum 8) from Kelowna and/or surrounding districts enroll.

Education 467-4: Curriculum and Instruction in Teaching English as a Second Language

Students will learn to use English language teaching "grammars" appropriately, to evaluate and use methods of teaching English as a second language, to do error analysis, and to adapt commercial programmes to the specific needs of learners. This course is designed for teachers and prospective teachers.

Prerequisite: A lower division linguistics course or permission of the instructor.

In the Fall 1986 semester, we are fortunate to have the support of Dr. Kelleen Toohey to co-ordinate a DISC plus in your area. Pending sufficient enrollment, the Educ 467-4 DISC plus will include live workshop(s) and an optional on-line computer forum linking participants to the instructor and other teachers in the ESL course.

For information about DISC plus, contact Undergraduate Programs, Faculty of Education at 291-4385
