

SPRING, 1983

INSTRUCTOR: Prof. Meguido Zola

Wednesday, 4:30 - 8:20

LOCATION: on campus

OBJECTIVES

The course will introduce you to: a survey of the scope and selected aspects of literature for children and to the use of literature with children.

OUTLINE OF TOPICS

The study of the scope and selected aspects of literature will exemplify a variety of approaches, viz.:

- the historical and cross-cultural approach (eg. the examination of children's comics, magazines and annuals throughout the English-speaking world during the last century)
- the genre approach (eg. the examination of oral tradition, myth, legend, fable, folk and fairy tales, etc.)
- the theme and issue approaches (eg. the exploration of such themes as the family, friendship, school, etc., and of such issues as old age, death, war, etc.)

The use of literature with children will focus on ways of planning for learning, creating learning environments, and developing strategies, techniques and materials in the use of children's literature in the school curriculum.

TYPICAL REQUIREMENTS

The course will comprise a broad range of experiences (lectures, seminars, discussion groups, etc.) organized in such a way as to model a student-centered approach and to maximize individualization of learning. The general requirements are as follows:

Attendance and participation in all parts of the program.

Completion of readings, completion of journal cum resource book, completion of assignments (Note: There is no required text or course-book. Many readings and resources will be recommended.)

Demonstration of competency in the fulfilment of a selection of assignments.

The purpose of the assignments, of which only a selection is required, is to initiate you into some of the roles, processes, and activities that a teacher of literature engages in, namely:

- * Reading - You will read, study, and annotate a broad range of children's literature according to criteria determined by your personal and professional needs and interests.
- * Evaluating - You will prepare a professional review for publication in a professional journal eg., Canadian Materials, In Review, Canadian Children's Literature, Quill and Quire, etc.
- * Creating - You will create an original work eg. a picture book, a concept book, and ABC, a collection of verse, a short story, a play, a factual book, etc., with or without accompanying illustrations.

- * Communicating - You will engage in a variety of experiences in communicating literature with your peers or with children eg., storytelling, reading aloud, reader's theatre, improvisation, etc. with or without accompanying media and visual aids as appropriate.
- * Teaching - You will plan and prepare a teaching unit focusing on a genre, a theme, an issue, an author or a book.

ELIGIBILITY

Pre-requisite: 60 semester hours of credit.

No required text.