Business Certificates

Rationale for change:

Beedie wishes to adopt an upper-division course access & graduation requirement of a Business GPA of 2.30 or greater. This will also be the minimum GPA requirement for internal transfer admission.

By adopting a Business-specific GPA, it is expected that Beedie will be better able to advise students on courses relevant to the program and monitor students' progress. This is also consistent with many other SFU programs as research suggests that discipline-specific courses are much more relevant to the success of a student's all-over progress.

Effective term and year:

Fall 2017

The following program(s) will be affected by these changes:

- Business Analytics and Decision Making Certificate
- Business Technology Management Certificate
- Corporate Environmental and Social Sustainability Certificate
- Innovation and Entrepreneurship Certificate
- International Experiential Learning Certificate

Calendar Change: "to" and "from" sections are not required. All deletions should be crossed out as follows: ~~sample~~. All additions should be marked by a bold.

Grade Requirements

In addition to normal university grade point average requirements, the Beedie School of Business requires a minimum ~~2.40~~ 2.30 overall SFU Business course ~~cumulative~~ grade point average (~~GGPA~~) for entry into all 300 and 400 division business courses.

For a course to be accepted as fulfilling a prerequisite, or for a lower division requirement, or for a core course to be accepted in a student's program in business, a student must have obtained a minimum grade of C- (C minus).

Rationale for change:

Legal and ethical considerations create risks for businesses, and these risks must be understood, avoided, minimized or managed. A practical understanding of law and ethics has thus become a critical element in any business. Having said this, while students majoring in business have access to and are required to take both Bus 393-Commercial law and Bus 303-Business Ethics, students in the Business Minor program are not required to take these courses nor do they have the same access or priority for registering in these courses. Moreover, most students in the Minor program do not want to take two additional courses to extend their education in the Minor program. Thus, many graduate from the Minor program without any grounding in the very important areas of business law and ethics. This is most unfortunate as grounding in business law and ethics is, arguably, as important as any of the mandatory or required courses in the Minor program.

Rationale for change:

1. ACMA 210 is a challenging course that is a gateway to the ACMA program. Students who do poorly in this course often end up in a STAT program. Although they might perform reasonably in their STAT program, their "program GPA" (i.e., their GPA in all STAT, MATH, MACM, and ACMA courses, which we use as a basis for our continuation requirement) may be heavily influenced by their poor grade in ACMA 210. We thus would like to give students the option of excluding ACMA 210 from their program GPA for the purposes of assessment for continuation.
2. Instructions for admission to the STAT minor should appear on the STAT minor page.
