RE: Reinstating PSYC 807F

DATE: February 8, 2021

I have approved the request from the Department of Psychology to reinstate PSYC 807F: Advanced Topics in Intervention: Dialectical Behaviour Therapy, a course temporarily withdrawn by Senate effective Spring 2019.

The Clinical Psychology Graduate Program wishes to now reinstate the course number in order to provide trainees in the Clinical Psychology Program with an important option for satisfying the program requirements, and practical experience in an important treatment modality as a component of their required training.

This curriculum item should be effective for Fall 2021.

Sincerely,

Sean Zwagerman
Associate Dean, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences

Dear Krista,

In a memo to Jeff on August 10, I submitted the SGSC agenda items from FASS which included this note:

Also, I have approved a request for PSYC 809, "Advanced Topics in Applied Psychology," to be reinstated, effective Spring 2021, and here forward that request to you for consideration. This course was temporarily withdrawn by Senate effective Fall 2019 because it had not been scheduled for several years prior. The Clinical Psychology Graduate Program wishes to now reinstate the course number in order to offer a special topics course on telepsychology practice. Given the current situation with COVID-19 and the physical distancing restrictions staff, students, and faculty are subject to, offering a course in telepsychology practice is both timely and provides trainees in the Clinical Psychology Program an option for fulfilling the program requirements and the practical component of their required training. Please include this item too on the agenda for the next SGSC meeting.

Since this item was not discussed at SGSC, how can I go about having it approved prior to our next SGSC meeting? I had an inquiry today from the grad chair in Psychology.

Thanks,
Sean
