BUDRA, PAUL

SCAR - Going into my second year as a Senator, I'm interested in rethinking the processes by which the Senate sets its agenda. It strikes me that Senate time is often taken up with discussions that are less informed than they could be because appropriate committees or individuals have not been consulted about potential Senate agenda issues before they arrive at Senate. I would like to see the definitions of what does come before Senate tightened and applied more rigorously.

DUNSTERVILLE, VALERIE

I have a genuine interest in the committees on which I have been serving and would like to continue on them.

I believe that longer service and experience on these committees provides continuity and the opportunity to understand the issues SFU faces. I also hope that as a result of the experience, I am in a better position to support Senate in its decision making.

ENGLAND, BILL

I began studying at SFU in 1995 with the intention of majoring in Mathematics and Computing Science. I have since transferred into Engineering Science where I am entering my final year. As a first-time Senator I would enjoy the opportunity to serve of the Senate Appeals Board (SAB). I promise to evaluate appeals in a fair, objective and thorough manner.

GUPTE, JAIDEEP

I stand to be nominated for the SCIA, the SCUP, and the SNC. I do so with both qualification and specific interest in mind. Currently, I am in my fourth year of an Honours degree in Economics. My interests lie in the field of Economic Development, which I will hopefully be able to carry forth into further studies.

Although I regard all Senate committees as having equal importance, I believe my efforts would be best used in the committees for which I stand. I am currently the International Assistant at the International & Exchange Student Service Office. Being an International student myself, I eagerly look to contribute to the development of SFU's international activities.

I see SFU as an institution with great potential to further itself as a research oriented university. However daunting as it may seem, I consider it a pleasant challenge to be a part of the budget and the academic prioritisation process.

Also, by being a part of these committees, I hope to further my understanding of the workings of the Senate and of the University.

HARRIS, MASON

I received my B.A. from Harvard University in 1961 and my Ph.D. from the State University of New York at Buffalo in 1971. I joined the English Department at SFU in 1966, and have been there ever since. I am now an Associate Professor and a Canadian citizen. I have published articles on Victorian fiction, dystopian science fiction, and also a monograph-length study of the fiction of Joy Kogawa, author of Obasan, a novel of the Japanese-Canadian internment.

For a long time I have been interested in the transition between high school and university. In the past, I have organized several "Futures" sessions for the English Department, and have given oral exams to high-school students for the International Baccalaureate program.

My view of enrolment policy is that, while maintaining standards, it should also be able to accommodate a diversity of students. I have enjoyed the variety of students in my classes at SFU, especially the "mature" students. I have the impression that there are less of these than formerly, perhaps due to tightening enrolment standards. I should like to see whether more can be done to accommodate students with high incentive but who don't quite fit the paradigm for admission.

JARA, LORENA

Ms. Jara replaced Mr. Kevin Hewitt as the graduate student Senate representative on SCIA, in February 2000. Ms. Jara completed Mr. Hewitt's term on SCIA that expired in May 2000.

Ms. Jara is a graduate student in the School of Communications, Faculty of Applied Sciences. She was recently appointed as the student representative on the Senate's Ad Hoc Committee to Review the Eastern Indonesia Universities Development Project. Ms. Jara has extensive understanding of international relations and university activities, and a deep knowledge of Latin America in particular. Because of her ongoing interest in internationalization at the University, she would like to continue to be a member of SCIA for a full-term."

JONES, JOHN

I believe Canadian universities are currently under pressure to make changes that would severely compromise their primary mission, the creation and transmission of knowledge. One symptom of this pressure is the recent, misguided government report which advocated that the commercialization of technologies be made part of our mandate. I believe that such pressures must be resisted, and that the University's commitment to education, as distinct from a narrow technical training, must be defended. This is what SCUP should be doing, and this is why I would like to be elected to that committee."

LAROCQUE, LINDA

I have been an Associate Professor in the Faculty of Education since 1994. This is my first time on Senate, and I look forward to participating in University governance. I am particularly interested in three committees:

SCUH. The honours a university confers are a public symbol of what it values and believes in. I would like to understand how those decisions are made and be part of that process.

SCIA. While at the University of Alberta I worked with many international graduate students, and have been involved in international programs at SFU, most recently the Greenland project. I am also part of the Centre of Excellence for Research on Immigration and Integration in the Metropolis. SCIA would be another opportunity for me to pursue my interest in international activities.

SCCS. I have participated in off-campus graduate programs and in research that involves collaboration and mutual learning, most recently the Partnership Schools Practicum Project and the Student Engagement Project. SCCS would be another opportunity for me to pursue my interest in service to the community.

McCARTHY, SHARON

I am interested in participating as a graduate representative on one of the following committees:

- Senate Graduate Studies Committee (June 1, 2000 to May 31, 2001)
- Senate Graduate Awards Adjudication Committee (June 1, 2000 to May 31, 2001)
- Senate Committee on International Activities (June 1, 2000 to May 31, 2001)

My interest in becoming a graduate representative stems from a recent reintroduction to the university environment. After completing a graduate degree in 1987, I applied to the Graduate Liberal Studies (GLS) program at S.F.U and enrolled in this program in 1995. Since that time, I have developed an interest in student affairs and in particular the interface between students, faculty and the university. My interest in being a graduate representative is based on a desire to explore this interest.

My previous academic experience include a four year undergraduate degree in sociology and a masters degree in Environmental Studies from York University. I have also developed and instructed courses in the Department of Communications at Simon Fraser University and the Environmental Protection Program at Kwantlen College.

My professional experience is of an interdisciplinary nature. I have been employed by BC Gas Utility Ltd. since 1993. My current responsibilities include developing and implementing public consultation and involvement plans to support capital projects. Previous responsibilities included managing the consultation and communication requirements for an integrated resource planning process. These combined responsibilities have required the integration of diverse, and often conflicting, interests in ways that have helped build consensus and work towards resolution with affected parties. Thank you for consideration. I may be reached by phone at 443-6897 or by email at smccarthy@bcgas.com if you require further information.

MIRALLES-SANCHEZ, VERONIKA

SCIA (1st choice)

My studies at SFU include Spanish and French as well as Latin American Studies and Community Economic Development. My international experience comes from having lived in Argentina and having attended various international conferences. I am currently the External Relations Officer of the Simon Fraser Student Society, where I am responsible for the national and international issues or campaigns of importance to students. My future goal is to work with Development Agencies in Latin America. I feel that international cooperation at the academic level is one of the fundamental steps toward development. My experience, expertise, and personal interest will undoubtedly contribute to the work of this committee.

ISEC (2nd choice)

As a student of Spanish, French, Latin American Studies and Community Economic Development, I have become very familiar with the exchange programs and field schools offered by International and Exchange Student Services. I believe that these programs are important to a student's education, whereas international cooperation and globalization are transforming the structures that we work within and also the research that we do. I recently applied to participate in a field school which was unfortunately cancelled, but I learned a lot during the process. I think that through my involvement in this committee I can provide some practical suggestions and criticism from a student's point of view, which could help to improve the programs offered by SFU.

PERCIVAL, GRAHAM

I am running for SCUS and CC; here is my statement.

I am a third-year student studying philosophy and mathematics, currently serving as alternate student member of SAB. As a student in two faculties, I feel that I can offer a unique perspective on undergraduate studies (SCUS). I am interested in the calendar and thus offer my services for CC.

PERCIVAL, PAUL

Professor, Department of Chemistry and TRIUMF. Member of Senate 1989-99.

I have served on many Senate committee in the past, including some as Chair. I am particularly interested in the new Senate Committee on Universities Priorities, since I have many years of experience of SCAP and SCUB, which are being replaced by SCUP.

PETERS, JOSEPH

Professor and Associate Director
School of Computing Science, Simon Fraser University.

As a professor with 17 years of service to SFU, including service on many committees at all levels, I feel that I have the experience and context to serve effectively on SCUP. I am a current member of SCAP and SCUB, and I look forward to serving on the streamlined replacement. I believe that my service on Senate, the University Tenure Committee, a variety of Senate committees, as Associate Director and as Director of Graduate Studies in the School of Computing Science, has given me a broad view of the university and its workings. I would like to bring this experience to SCUP.

I am keenly interested in the future of our university and in the open and democratic development of policies that will allow us to excel.

ROBERTS, SHEILA

Regarding membership on the Senate Policy Committee on Scholarships, Awards and Bursaries

I have been a member of the Senate Policy Committee on Scholarships, Awards and Bursaries for several years now. My major concerns are that students from all Faculties be treated equably. Although students from many Faculties continue to be traditional students, coming to SFU directly from High School, supported by their families, and attending university full time, many of the best students at SFU do not fit this traditional pattern. They have returned to their studies after some time; they are often working part time or full time, and they may have considerable family commitments. Sometimes those who have only experienced the traditional route to studies fail to consider students who study less than full time as "real students", stating that anyone can earn an "A" grade if they only take one course. I wish to ensure that such students are seriously considered on the merits of their academic performances, and not penalized because of their non-traditional pattern of studies.

TUCKER, SEAN

Hi. My name is Sean Tucker. I would like sit as member of the diverse qualifications admission committee. This fall I will be entering the final year of my undergraduate degree with majors declared in Business Administration and History. I was admitted to SFU via university transfer in 99-2. When I applied to SFU my cumulative average was not very good, so I took advantage of the diverse qualification admissions category. It turned out that my marks were high enough to get me into to SFU, and hence I was not considered as a diverse qualification applicant. This experience has made me familiar with this system and sensitive to potential students who rely on it as a means of being admitted to SFU. Given this, my good sense of judgement, and my desire to volunteer my time to the university vis-a-vis this particular senate committee, I hope you will support my nomination.

WELDON, LARRY

With thirty-one years of faculty service at various universities, I have seen a variety of academic and administrative styles. At SFU, I have been closely associated with the development of the Harbour Centre campus, the Statistical Consulting Service, the Indonesia Project, the Management and Systems Science program, and various student recruitment activities. Through participation on one or more of the committees SCUP, SCEMP, and SCIA, I want to contribute to the discussion of the appropriate relationship between the university and the society that supports it. I think the ideal campus environment is one where faculty are actively engaged in development of their discipline, and at the same time, eager to interest students in these developments. I believe that society is best served when faculty set high standards for students and do not relax these standards for pragmatic reasons. However, I am aware of the shortcomings of GPA as a measure of academic potential.

YAU, DAVID (revised statement)

I am writing to express my interest in representing students in the Senate Committee on Undergraduate Studies (SCUS), Electoral Standing Committee (ESC), Senate Committee on Enrolment Management and Planning (SCEMP), Senate Committee on Disciplinary Appeals (SCODA), and Senate Undergraduate Award Adjudication Committee (SUAAC).

As a third year student double major in Computing Science and Business Administration, I have volunteered most of my time on SFU community. My community involvements include Student Liaison in Business Administration Student Society, Business Forum Representative in Simon Fraser University, Alternate Undergraduate Representative in Senate Committee on Continuing Studies. Through my contacts with undergraduate students, I believe I would be able to represent them in the committees mentioned above. I also believe through active involvement in those committees, we could make SFU the best university in Canada.

Thank you for your consideration and I hope you would choose me as undergraduate student representative for the committees mentioned above.

AMUNDSEN, CHERYL

Cheryl Amundsen is an Associate Professor in the Faculty of Education at Simon Fraser University. She served on various committees concerned with policy about teaching and the development of teaching while a faculty member at McGill University, jointly appointed to the Centre for University Teaching and Learning (CUTL) and the Department of Educational Psychology. She came to Simon Fraser University in September 1998 where her primary area is education and technology. Her interest in teaching development and instructional technology at the forms the basis of her research and scholarly activities. She is a member of two research teams; one focuses on how university professors develop pedagogical knowledge in relationship to their subject matter, the other complements this focus by investigating the instructional use of various technologies from the perspective of both learner and instructor.

CHUAH, KUAN

I am the present student representative in the SUAAC and wish to continue to sit in the committee. As your representative in the committee, I shall continue to ensure that the terms of all scholarships are followed, and that qualified students continue to receive the scholarships they deserve. My experience in this committee as well as other senate and SFSS committees will enable me to effectively communicate the student's point of view in the decision making process. I have an excellent attendance record in the committee and will continue to serve the student interest diligently. Thank you for your support.

DRIVER, JON

I am currently in my second term as a member of SCIA, but my new position as Dean of Graduate Studies means that I can no longer remain as a faculty senator on the committee. I was a founding member of SCIA and founding chair of its subcommittee on student exchanges, so I am aware of the range of international activities in which SFU is engaged. I believe it is important to promote international activity by SFU students and faculty, but Senate needs to be assured of the academic quality of international activities. Senate must also monitor official international activity of the university in order to promote the safety of students and to ensure that the university takes into account the status of human and civil rights in countries with which it makes formal arrangements.

GERSON, CAROLE

General Statement

After receiving my Ph.D. in Canadian literature from UBC, I joined the SFU English Department in 1989 as a Canada Research Fellow, reaching the rank of full professor in 1996. My publications on Canadian literary history include 7 books (authored or edited), some 40 book chapters and articles, and many book reviews and contributions to reference works. My current research interests are poet Pauline Johnson, and the History of the Book in Canada; with the latter, I am a co-investigator on a 5-year MCRI grant funded by SSHRC. My service in the English Department includes library representative (1990-95), and Associate/Undergraduate Chair (1995-99). Since 1994, I have been Research Liaison Officer for the Faculty of Arts; I also chair the SFU/SSHRC Institutional Grants Committee.

Statement Regarding the Senate Library Committee:

Having served on the Senate Library Committee from 1992-94, and on the search committee for the University Librarian in the first months of 2000, I can claim considerable familiarity with our library. I see myself as a committed library advocate: a strongly funded, well-run library is essential to all teaching and research sectors of the university community. In recent years, the SFU Library has been performing well, and has been highly valued. For example, we are among the few universities that provide a direct link to their library from their homepage on the web. While I think that we have to maintain our superior electronic resources, I am also a book person, in favour of equitable distribution of our acquisitions across the various media, and in favour of equitable budgetary allocations across university disciplines and departments.

HAHN, MARTIN

I have served on the SAB first as a regular member and then as an alternate. I have enjoyed the work of the committee, attended faithfully whenever called upon to do so, and believed to have been a good contributing member. I would like to continue to serve on the SAB.

HOLD, ANGELA

My name is Angela Viktoria Hold and I am a fourth year joint Major in Women's Studies and Sociology. I have been involved in many different facets of the University:

Treasurer of the Simon Fraser Student Society, Women's Studies Forum Representative, Women's Studies Representative to the Department, P!RG volunteer, Women's Centre library volunteer, general volunteer with Out on Campus and Vegetarian Club member. I have sat on various University and SFSS committees including the Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Working Group, the Foodbank Joint Co-ordinating Committee, Finance and Administrative Services Committee, Food and Beverage Services Committee and the Advocacy Committee.

Over the last two years I have had a chance to speak with thousands of students, and feel that I am familiar with the concerns of students, faculty and staff. I am open minded, enthusiastic and well organized. I am firmly committed to creating a university that encourages diversity, independent thinking and creative problem solving.

I look forward to working with students, faculty and administration on Senate.

HUGHES, JONATHAN

During my time as a graduate student, I have completed ten Teaching Assistant Appointments, four at Simon Fraser University (Ph.D. Candidate) and six at the University of Wyoming (M.Sc.). The courses range from the introductory level to upper division and include Plant Ecology (404), Evolution (400), Plant Biology (337), Plant Anatomy (320), and General Biology (100-level majors and non-majors). I was also a Sessional Instructor at Simon Fraser during the Fall, 1999 semester, in which I taught Plant Ecology, BISC 404. I have received two Biology Department Teaching Awards, one from each of the above institutions.

My interest in serving on the Senate Committee for University Teaching and Learning is to gain a better understanding of education at higher organization levels and to promote and facilitate excellence in education at SFU. Teaching has been my primary interest throughout my post-secondary education. I take great joy in teaching and consider it my calling. For me, the most important goal of teaching is to facilitate self-motivated, critical thinking. My teaching method involves weaving concepts together to create a web of interconnecting ideas. The scientific method is based on logic, but it is not sterile and unimaginative. I like to introduce contentious issues in science, whether old debates or new. This keeps the students' interest, and helps the students realize that facts and theories change, but critical thinking is the tool they will always use to assess the facts. This is not to downplay the facts; they are the "language" of a subject. Essentially, my objective as a teacher is to provide the tools and practice needed by young adults to become curious and independent investigators for the rest of their life.

LACOURSE, TERRI

I would like to serve on the Senate Graduate Studies Committee as a graduate student representative for several reasons. I am interested in university governance and believe that graduate student representation on Senate committees is important and necessary. The views and concerns of graduate students should be included in all discussions of policy related to Graduate Studies at Simon Fraser University and I feel strongly that I will be able to represent graduate students in an accurate and effective manner. I would like to participate in decisions that affect current and future graduate students and also help to maintain a high standard for graduate education at Simon Fraser University.

LIVADIOTAKIS, GEORGIA

Re: Graduate Senate Committee

My name is Georgia Livadiotakis and I am a Master of Arts Candidate in Gerontology. I have served as the Gerontology Forum Representative on the Simon Fraser Student Society this past year and will continue to do so until graduation. As a forum representative, I have been given the opportunity to present the views and concerns of my fellow peers and also for graduate students on a broader level, as there is a large minority of graduate students on Forum.

I am also serving as the graduate senator this coming year and hope to further graduates interest within the university. As a means to accomplish this goal, I hope to play an active role on the Graduate Senate Committee, if elected. I am an articulate student who is not afraid to share nor make my opinions be heard. I am motivated to improve the opportunities for graduate students at SFU.

PABEL, HILMAR

I began teaching at SFU in 1992 and am responsible for teaching courses in the history of continental Europe, 1500-1800. I also teach the two large Western Civilization courses offered by our Department. My research interests lie in the religious and intellectual history of the Renaissance and Reformation, and I specialize in the religious thought of Erasmus of Rotterdam. I have edited a collection of essays and published several articles in this field. My monograph, _Conversing with God: Prayer in Erasmus' Pastoral Writings_ (University of Toronto Press) appeared in 1997.

I would like to serve on the Senate Appeals Board to ensure that students with grievances receive a fair hearing and just treatment from the university. From my own experience of teaching at SFU, I know that many students often find themselves in extraordinary circumstances which prevent them from meeting ordinary university requirements. As an instructor, I have tried to show flexibility when such students appear in my courses. On the Senate Appeals Board I hope to help the university demonstrate that same flexibility while at the same time upholding the academic standards of the university.

PATERSON, DAVID

David Paterson has served as an alternate member on the Senate Committee on Disciplinary Appeals since June 1999. He is a Senator from the Faculty of Education where he teaches in the program area of counselling psychology.

PERCIVAL, COLIN

For the past year I have been a student member of SCODA and although only one case has come to the committee over this period it was quite an interesting one. As such, I am interested in being re-elected to SCODA for the next year.

POWELL, JEFF

I am applying for the graduate student nomination on the CRUA. I was recently appointed to serve on the CRUA as the alternate student (graduate) for the remainder of the previous member's term, which is up at the end of May 2000. I wish to continue serving on the committee because I feel that my contribution into the handling of applicant's appeals was valuable and helpful. Also, while it was not always enjoyable, I considered the overall experience to be a positive one.

RIORDAN, TIM

I am a doctoral candidate in the School of Criminology at Simon Fraser University (SFU). I am also the Graduate Issues Officer of the Simon Fraser Student Society (SFSS), elected annually by the graduate students at SFU, and Chair of the Graduate Issues Committee (a standing committee of the SFSS). Given my position, it is most important that I sit on the Senate Graduate Issues Committee. In my absence, it would be most difficult to co-ordinate the activities of the SFSS and the Office of the Dean of Graduate Studies in a manner which (a) would ensure that graduate students are involved in the management of graduate programs at SFU, and (b) would strengthen the positive working relationship I enjoy with the Dean of Graduate Studies, Jon Driver.

STEINBACH, CHRIS

I was first elected to Senate in the by-election last summer, and I was reelected to Senate in the elections this year. I was also the CMPT forum rep for last year.

I have served on both the Senate Nominating Committee and Senate Committee on Honourary Degrees (now Senate Committee on University Honours).

I am interested in holding a seat on SNC, SCODA and SAB.

STEWART, RYAN

Senate Committee on Agenda and Rules

My interest in serving on SCAR comes from my commitment to ensure fair, equitable, and strong student representation on Senate and its committees. I eagerly await the opportunity to examine and change where necessary the terms of reference and membership structures for Senate committees, particularly as they relate to student representation.

I also recognize the importance of constructing meeting agendas so that appropriate business is dealt with in appropriate ways. I would enjoy participating in the agenda formulation process, which would include working to ensure that student concerns are, when appropriate, given due consideration by Senate.

Senate Committee on University Priorities

I would enjoy the opportunity to sit on a committee with such a wide scope of consideration. My interaction with many different groups and individuals on campus in my role as University Relations Officer puts me in a good position to hear the concerns and priorities of SFU's student population. Also, questions of diversity and curricular relevance and/or appropriateness are ones that I would appreciate the opportunity to address on SCUP. Perhaps most importantly, I am committed to ensuring that academically SFU remains one of Canada's top universities. This requires leadership and innovation, both of which I would strive to contribute on SCUP.

Senate Committee on International Activities

SFU's international activities allow the university community an opportunity to gain valuable experience and knowledge, and in many cases allow the university to make substantial positive contributions to the broader community. Just what form these activities take and how they benefit both the University and others require close scrutiny if we are not to overstep or abuse our role as an institution of higher education and a potentially powerful development partner in international communities. The chance to help ensure that we both contribute to and learn from international activities to our fullest capacity and in appropriate ways gives me great interest in this committee.

VANSTON, CLAIRE

I returned to school at the age of 27, completing my B.A.(hons), psychology in three and a half years. The following fall I began my MSc (under special arrangements). My research for this degree addressed the effects of pregnancy on rodent sensorimotor and spatial performance. I successfully defended my Masters thesis in April of this year and began my PhD in the beginning of May.

I have been the recipient of two graduate entrance scholarships (C.D. Nelson - 1997-98; Bert Henry - 2000-01) and a PSG A NSERC Scholarship. I am currently serving as a voting member on the SFU Childcare Society. I am also a member of the SFU employment search committee for a new Director of the Animal Care Facility.

My doctoral work will address the effects of pregnancy on cognitive performance in women, to date research in this area has been extremely sparse.

WESSEL, SILVIA

Having been the recipient of several graduate scholarships during my studies at SFU many years ago, I know first hand of the impact Graduate Awards can make. I have been a member of the SGAAC for this last year and I feel my experience as a former graduate student, Adjunct Professor of the School of Engineering, former committee member of the Science Council of B.C.'s scholarship program, and my involvement with undergraduate students has been valuable in the adjudication of promising and outstanding students.

WORTIS, MICHAEL

Professor of Physics

PhD, Harvard University, 1963, Physics

Shrum Chair in Science, 1987--92

Member of Senate since 1996

Committees: SCAR (98-00), SCAP/SCUB (98-00), UTC (91--93, 99--)

Senate and its committees are charged under the University Act with the academic governance of the University. Since the University's central purpose and function is to provide an academic centre--excellent research and excellent teaching/learning--for the people of British Columbia, that charge gives Senate a central role in University governance. Senate represents a diverse community and it will take wisdom, patience, and a real faith in the democratic process to develop that role in an assertive and constructive manner.

YAU, DAVID

I am writing in express my interest in representing undergraduate students in the Senate Committee on Undergraduate Studies (SCUS), Diverse Qualification Adjudication Committee (DQAC), Senate Committee on Disciplinary Appeals (SCODA), and Senate Undergraduate Award Adjudication Committee (SUAAC).

As a third year student double major in Computing Science and Business Administration, I have volunteered most of my time on SFU community. My community involvements include Student Liaison in Business Administration Student Society, Business Forum Representative in Simon Fraser University, Alternate Undergraduate Representative in Senate Committee on Continuing Studies. Through my contacts with undergraduate students, I believe I would be able to represent them in the committees mentioned above. I also believe through active involvement in those committees, we could make SFU the best university in Canada.

Thank you for your consideration and I hope you would choose me as undergraduate student representative for the committees mentioned above.

ZAZKIS, RINA

SNC - I served on SNC for the last two years. I took pleasure from meeting new people and twisting, gently, their arms, so I would like to continue.

SAB - I served on SAB for the last two years. I found it to be challenging and interesting as well as a great way to learn about our University. I would like to continue.
