PREREQUISITE: EDUC 220 or equivalent and 60 credit hours. Students who have credit for Educ 425 cannot take Educ 323 for further credit.Course description:

This course is designed to introduce the student to the major theories underlying the work of counsellors and educators working with persons with emotional and/or behavioral difficulties. The course will cover theories based on psychodynamic, existential, behavioral, cognitive and systemic frameworks.

Students will have an opportunity to examine these perspectives and their relation to counselling strategies and interventions.

Evaluation:

Assignments in the course will provide students with an opportunity to become familiar with a variety of theoretical approaches and their implications and applications to human behavior and experience. Detailed descriptions of assignments will be distributed at the first class.
