(July 13 - July 22)

Monday - Saturday, 8:30 a.m. - 12:20 p.m.

INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Ron Wiegerink

LOCATION: Jericho Hill School
4125 West 8th Avenue
Vancouver, B.C.

PREREQUISITE:

EDUC 401/402 and certified practicing teacher.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

An examination of management and educational planning and programming for emotionally disturbed (behaviour disordered) children, the role of the teacher, and the establishment of programs.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

1. Students will identify various interventions and approaches (behavioural, affective and social) used with populations of behavioural disordered (BD) children, and explain their conceptual base.
2. Students will demonstrate a social - affective program and evaluate its usefulness with BD populations.
3. Students will compare and contrast various interventions, and select the most appropriate set of strategies for use with individual BD learners. Students will explain their rationale for their decisions, based on the characteristics of the learner, setting and task.
4. Students will design and implement interventions, as well as record their effectiveness and make modifications.
5. Students will discuss the current research literature in terms of effectiveness of specific interventions with BD learners.
6. Students will demonstrate the ability to use a variety of crisis management techniques to control negative behavior and redirect learners to appropriate behavior.
7. Students will identify and discuss current professional issues in the education of BD learners.
8. Students will demonstrate skills in planning and developing a program that facilitate growth in BD learners.
