COURSE DESCRIPTION

Multicultural education is a process of comprehensive school reform and basic education for all students. It accepts and affirms: 1) the doctrine of pluralist which Canada and British Columbia subscribes to legislative: 2) the pluralism (ethnic, racial, linguistic, religious, economic, gender, and among others) that students, their communities, and teachers represent; and,3) it challenges and rejects racism and other forms of discrimination in schools and society. Multicultural education permeates the curriculum and instructional strategies used in schools, as well as the interactions among teachers, students and parents, and in fact the very way that the schools conceptualize the nature of teaching and learning.

Education 441 is a course for educators and others to develop ways of working in education communities in a manner consistent with the principles of multicultural and anti-racist education. Role play, group discussion, readings, audiovisual and curriculum materials will be used to assist participants to develop definitions of their professional roles in a multicultural Canada. Activities and programs which promote intercultural and anti-racist education will be examined.
