Memorandum

To: Senate

From: Ron Heath
Secretary, Senate Committee on University Honours

Subject: Honorary Degrees to be Awarded

Date: May 17, 2002

At the December 2001 meeting of Senate at which the recommendations for 2002 Honorary Degrees were being considered, it was suggested that the University might consider awarding honorary degrees other than the sole current Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa. There was a limited amount of discussion about whether some other honorary degree option might be more appropriate for specific honorary degree nominees. The matter was referred to the Senate Committee on University Honours for further discussion and recommendation to Senate.

The Senate Committee on University Honours met on Thursday, May 16, 2002 to discuss this question. The attached report summarizes the practices at selected universities across Canada and while it is apparent that there is a wide range being conferred, some in particular are more commonly offered. There was strong support in the Committee to increase the number of Honorary Degrees available for award to honorary degree recipients. Members noted that the availability of a broader range of honorary degree designations would allow the University to recognize the achievements and contributions of individuals more appropriately than is possible when all candidates receive a Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa. At the same time, the members of the Committee did not support the introduction of an unlimited range of options.

Motion:

That Senate approve the following Honorary Degrees for award by the University:

- D.Litt. (letters) - for outstanding achievement in literature
- D.Sc. (Science) - for outstanding achievement in science, engineering science, computing science, medicine
- D.F.A. (Fine Arts)- for outstanding achievement in the fine and performing arts
- LL.D. (Laws) - for outstanding achievement in other areas

The Senate Committee on University Honours will make recommendations to Senate regarding both the names of individuals to be honoured and the degree to be awarded in each instance.
