REPORT ON UNDERGRADUATE
EXTENSION CREDIT COURSES

May 1, 1982 - April 30, 1983

This report describes the numbers of undergraduate extension credit course offerings and associated course enrollee figures of the Departments/Faculties of the University for the period May 1, 1982 through April 30, 1983. By way of definition, extension credit courses include those that are offered after 4:30 p.m. of the regular semesters or during the days or evenings of Intersession (May - June) or Summer Session (July - August), those that are offered in downtown Vancouver (day or evening), those that are offered off-campus in a classroom (e.g., at Kelowna, Prince George), and those that are available throughout the province via print or print and audio tapes - i.e., the Directed Independent Study (correspondence) Course Program.

A summary of the numbers of extension credit course offerings and the numbers of course enrollees for each type of extension course is presented in Table 1. A total of 21,815 course enrollees was recorded in 666 extension credit course offerings during 1982-83, 3.1% (655) more enrollees than for the same period of 1981-82. The number of enrollees represented 26.6% of the total number of undergraduate enrollees at the university during 1982-83 (82,145).

I On-Campus and Downtown Undergraduate Extension Credit Programs

A summary of the number of courses and course enrollees for each location (on-campus, downtown) by each Faculty* for each of the three semesters of 1982-83 and 1981-82 is presented in Table 2. The number of enrollees was down marginally (-1.9%) during 1982-83 relative to 1981-82 as was the number of course offerings (-6.6%, 524 vs 561 courses).

In terms of location, the number of course enrollees in the Downtown Program was up slightly (4.0%, 2,231 vs 2,145) and the On-campus Program was down (-2.7%, 15,765 vs 16,208). With respect to the latter, the number of course offerings and course enrollees were down in Education and Interdisciplinary Studies during Summer, 1982 (13 and 8 courses, respectively). The number of course enrollees in the Fall Semester 1982 On-campus Program was also down relative to the same period in 1981. Factors responsible include a reduced number of sections of courses rather than the number of courses per se and an apparent shift of some evening-only students to day-time courses, possibly due to the higher level of unemployment brought about by the economic conditions of that time. Such effects do not seem to suggest the existence of a trend, however, as the Spring Semester 1982 Evening On-campus Program showed an increase in course enrollees (+2.1%) in comparison with the Spring Semester, 1981.

*The Faculty of Business Administration officially came into existence in January, 1982. For descriptive comparisons, however, this report treats the former Department of Business Administration in the Faculty of Arts as a Faculty beginning with the Summer Semester, 1981 (i.e., May, 1981)

II Off-Campus Undergraduate Credit Programs

A summary of the number of off-campus lecture and seminar courses and enrollees in such courses is presented, by program, in Table 3. Exclusive of the Latin American Studies Field School, which was not offered during 1982-83, the number of course enrollees increased by 14%, primarily due to increases in programs provided by the Faculty of Education. The Spring Semester, 1982, represented the conclusion of Arts and Interdisciplinary Studies course offerings at Kelowna.

III Directed Independent Study Courses

Thirty-four different courses were available in this instructional mode during 1982-83. The total number of offerings of these courses was 99, thirty-one more than in 1981-82. The total number of course enrollees was 3,215, an increase of 47.3 percent relative to 1981-82.

IV Special Audit Students

The number of people attending classes, day or evening, on- or off-campus, as special audit students during 1982-83 was 184, a decrease of 42 (18.6%) over 1981-82.

V Certificate and Diploma Programs

Course enrollee data for the seven certificate programs and the Extended Studies Diploma Program for 1982-83 is presented in Table 4. It should be noted that this data does not represent additional course enrollees to those already reported here or to the overall university enrollment statistics. Students in these programs take courses during the day or evening on-campus, off-campus and by correspondence.

The 2,544 course enrollees recorded in these programs during 1982-83 represent a 17.9% increase relative to 1981-82. The programs reflecting the greatest increase are Criminology, Public History, Senior Citizens, and Health and Fitness Studies. The Extended Studies Diploma Program showed a decrease of 207 (23%) course enrollees due, primarily, to the moratorium on this type of student in Computing Science courses and the limited number of spaces available in upper division Business Administration courses.
