SCUS 76-59

MEMORANDUM

To: Dr. J.J. Weinkam, Chairman
Faculty of Interdisciplinary Studies
Undergraduate Curriculum Committee
Subject: KIN 420-3 Seminar - Kinesiology

From: Dr. T.W. Calvert, Chairman
Department of Kinesiology
Date: December 14, 1976

The Problem

For several years Kin 420-3 has been used as a vehicle to offer experimental course material and for the first offering of new courses which are being developed. Students have been allowed to take two separate offerings of the course for credit, although normally only one of these can be used in satisfying the 30 hour upper level Kinesiology course requirement for the major. This has caused no problems for the Registrar's Office who can even append a sub-topic to the course title on the student's transcripts.

In 77-1 we will for the first time offer two different versions of Kin 420 in the same semester. The topics are quite different and it is not unnatural that some students would want to elect the course twice in the same semester. Apparently the computer program used by the Registrar's Office cannot handle this situation.

The Solution

Add two new courses: Kin 421-3 Selected Topics in Kinesiology II
Kin 422-3 Selected Topics in Kinesiology III
Course description is identical to Kin 420-3

Modify Kin 420-3 title to Kin 420-3 Selected Topics in Kinesiology I

The degree requirements will be effectively unchanged - i.e. only one of Kin 420-3, Kin 421-3 and Kin 422-3 can be counted towards the 30 upper level credits for the major. Editorial comment will be required to cover this. The others can be used as electives.

Three course numbers are requested since although it is unlikely that more than two versions would ever be offered in a regular semester this might well occur in the Summer where there are distinct offerings for the Summer Semester, InterSession and Summer Session.
