MEMORANDUM

To..... Mr. H. Evans, Secretary of Senate	From..... B. L. Funt, Chairman Interdisciplinary Committee on Kinesiology
Subject..... Proposed Courses in Kinesiology - Kines. 100-3 and Kines. 043-3	Date..... November 17, 1969

The proposed courses in Kinesiology - 100-3 and 043-3 - were considered by the Interdisciplinary Committee on Kinesiology at its meeting of Thursday, November 13th.

The Kinesiology 100-3 course was approved by the Committee on the understanding that the formal course proposal form be completed for Senate approval. This has now been done and is attached herewith.

A further meeting of the Interdisciplinary Committee on Kinesiology has been scheduled for Thursday, November 20th and the more detailed outline of Kines. 043-3 will be considered at this time. Nevertheless, since the Committee has already considered this course and wishes it to be incorporated in the 1970-71 calendar, the papers are forwarded to you to meet the deadline for inclusion on the agenda for December's Senate Meeting.

The Senate Agenda Committee recommended that Kinesology 100-3 be placed before Senate at its December meeting, and that Kinesiology 043-3 not be placed before Senate until a more detailed outline of the course has been submitted.

CALENDAR INFORMATION

Department: Kinesiology Course Number: 100-3

Title: Introduction to Kinesiology

Sub-title or Description:

The study of human movement as a scientific discipline. Fundamental concepts of anatomy, physiology, mechanics, growth, motor learning. Sports and recreation in historical and cultural perspective.

Credit Hours: 3

Vector Description: 2-1-0

Pre-requisite(s): nil

ENROLLMENT AND SCHEDULING

Estimated Enrollment: 40

Semester Offered: Fall Semester
Alternate Summer Semesters

When course will first be offered: Fall 1970

JUSTIFICATION

- A. The study of Kinesiology requires the integration of material from a number of disciplines. Most lower level courses are taught by "pure scientists" who have little regard for the relevance of their material to Kinesiology. This course will create an appropriate conceptual matrix for the study of human movement.

JUSTIFICATION (cont'd)

- B. Faculty presenting upper level Kinesiology courses are unanimous in stating the need for such a course: The first lectures of their courses are invariably spent in the introduction of very elementary and very basic material which should be introduced in the early semesters.
- C. An orientation to the research which characterizes Kinesiology will make students appreciative of the undergraduate science courses and permit them to prepare for their discipline with reason and purpose.
- D. The course will allow the student to confirm his identification with Kinesiology at an early stage.

IVBUDGETARY AND SPACE FACTORS

- A. 2 lectures per week
3 x 1 tutorial per week
- B. The course is conceived as a co-operative presentation of P.D.S. faculty. Co-ordination by one faculty member (eg. Day, Ross, Kirchner, Stratton) with contributions by others: Danister, Tomasek, Duncan
