Honors Degrees

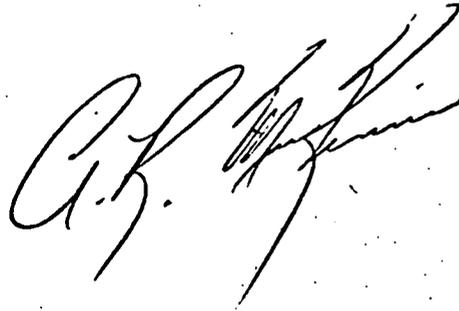

To: D.P. Robertson
Secretary, Senate
Subject: Definition of requirements for
Honors degrees and First Class
Standing

From: A.R. MacKinnon
Dean of Education
Date: December 18, 1967

As you know, the Faculty of Education does not have an Honors program. The Faculty, however, is concerned with requirements for Honors degrees and First Class Standing and urges the other two Faculties to define with greater clarity those requirements.

It is the view of the Faculty of Education that degrees can be classified in terms of First Class Standing, but that no further classification should be made.

We would urge as well that some commonality should exist in the criteria used to specify First Class Standing.

Paper S-101(b)

Secretary of Senate

From B. L. Funt

LF

Dean of Science

Subject First Class Honors Standing

Date January 25, 1968

Each of the departments of the Faculty of Science has reported its recommendation for the granting of first class honors standing. There is a uniform consensus that a minimum standing of a grade point average of 3.0 be required for honors and that first class honors designation be given to candidates with a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.

There was an indication from several of the departments that the initiative for recommending candidates in their subjects be left with the departments and a degree of departmental discretion be permitted within the regulations.
