PREREQUISITE

60 credit hours & coreq EDUC 220

DESCRIPTION

This course provides students with an understanding of what the concept of learning disabilities is all about. It also informs students on current issues and research findings in the field.

Hence, Educ 422 focuses more on conceptual and research dimensions of learning disabilities, and lays the necessary foundation for the more practical dimensions of assessment and remediation of learning disabilities in Educ 424: Learning Disabilities Practicum.
