Motion: That SGSC approves the proposed changes in GGR 1.4.7 (Co-operative Education).

Rationale:

The changes are intended to reflect current practice and to refer students to the Co-operative Education website rather than to a list of graduate programs that needs on-going revision.

FROM: GGR 1.4.7 Co-operative Education

Co-operative education integrates work experience and graduate studies. The name reflects the co-operative relationship among the University, employer and student. Practical experience from work terms is related to the student's major interests within the graduate program. A number of graduate programs have been approved, by the relevant graduate program committee, for co-operative education (co-op). These are listed below.

- chemistry (MSc)
- economics (MA)
- environmental toxicology (MET)
- mathematics (MSc)
- resource and environmental management (MRM)
- statistics and actuarial science (MSc)

The list of approved programs is subject to change. In addition, some faculties may permit co-op work terms for individual students on a case-by-case basis. Interested students should consult the co-op coordinator.

The application to enrol in co-op is subject to departmental approval. Each department has a specific course for the co-op work term or practicum.
